S. A. D. 44 DIRECTORS ACCEPT RESIGNATIONS—DENY SMOKING AREA AT MONDAY SESSION

At their regular session held Monday evening of this week in the Lecture Hall at Telstar Regional High School, the board of directors of School Administrative District 44 accepted the resignations of Miss Alice Auchmoody and Charles Johnson III. The couple, who were married on July 31, will assume duties as directors of the Clam City School at Stonington.

Miss Auchmoody had served as the District's elementary art teacher during the 1970-71 school year, and Mr. Johnson had taught a sixth grade class at Crescent Park School since last October. Candidates are now under consideration for both positions.

The board approved the nomination of Tim LaVallee to serve as assistant football coach at Telstar.

By a 11-4 margin the directors turned down a request initiated by the Telstar Student Council to designate an outdoor area at the high school facility to be used as a smoking area by students having parental permission. It had been the student representatives' feelings that such a designated area would ease congestion in the building's toilet facilities, caused by student smoking, as well as making maintenance of such less expensive.

A discussion was held regarding the possibility of a private firm auditing the District's financial records instead of the State Department of Audit as is the current practice.

The board voted to retain the present procedure. It was also the decision of the board that the secretary in the superintendents office may have the same benefits as negotiated by the S. A. D. 44 Secretaries Association.

The board granted authority to the superintendent to hire any necessary personnel through Sept. 30, 1971 with the approval of the Personnel Committee.

Supt. Robert J. Gerardi informed the board that one of the driver education cars had apparently been taken from the Telstar premises without permission on the night of July 25, and damaged. It is now the policy to have the cars kept overnight inside of the auto shop at the high school.

In the citizens portion of the meeting, Mrs. Phyllis Dock suggested that a program be instituted to assist in problems of drop-outs, drug abuse delinquency and deviant behavior.

Mr. Gerardi introduced H. William Yoo who began his duties as assistant principal at Telstar on Monday of this week.

Discussion was held on possible methods of increasing enrollments in departments of the high school in which a comparative small number of students are now enrolled.

Brian Flynn, Telstar principal, is scheduled to report at the next board meeting on utilization of student time and scheduling at the secondary level.

All members of the board were present with the exception of William Cousins of Bethel.

The next meeting of the S. A. D. 44 board will be held on Monday evening, Aug. 16, at Telstar Regional High School.

ROAD RESURFACING—Above is shown work this Thursday on resurfacing of Rt. 26 in the South Bethel area. Work was started about two weeks ago on a resurfacing project from Route 232 in Woodstock, 10 miles west to the railroad tracks at Bethel village.

RAIN DAMPENS ACTIVITIES OF ANNUAL MOLLYOCKETT DAY

In spite of a general drizzle much of the day, the crowd on Mollyockett Day last Saturday, was not discouraged and many turned out for the parade and activities. Brenda Lyon as Miss Mollyockett, led the parade on horseback.

The parade was enlivened by the second annual appearance of the minibike-mounted Oxford County Shrine Club clowns. Because of the inclement weather the Old Crow Band did not march in the parade, but they serenaded the crowd from the fire house after the parade reached that location.

The minibike was awarded to David Stone and the television set to Harry John Buswell.

Although the heavens opened and the rains came down, especially during the parade, Mollyockett Day, last Saturday, was a great success according to those who attended this annual chivaree on the village green. The clowns and the floats were outstanding, probably the best in many years, and the two pony carts were charming. Judges from the Bethel Inn had a difficult job selecting three winning floats, but it took the wisdom of Solomon to select the prettiest, the funniest, and the most original from among the score or more of youngsters who cavorted and charmed spectators as they

CONDITION OF LAKES TO BE TOPIC OF NORWAY MEETING NEXT MONDAY EVENING

"What Is Happening to Our Lakes" will be the subject of a public information meeting that is being sponsored by the Oxford County Planning Committee of the Threshold to Maine Resource Conservation and Development Project on Monday evening, Aug. 9, at 7:30 in the Oxford High School in Norway. If your lake has become more turbid or green with algae, possibly associated with increased septic, bacterial, or nutrient inflows, this meeting will afford an opportunity to discuss answers leading to the possible reversal or prevention of such conditions.

A panel of experts will be present to discuss lake eutrophication and the effect proper and/or improper shoreline development and water use has on present and future lake water quality. Panel members will be Professor Robert Chute of the Ecology Department at Bates College; Biologist Matthew Scott of the Maine Environmental Improvement Commission; Executive Director, Charles Boothby of the Maine Soil and Water Conservation Commission; and Dr. Edgar A. Imhoff of the Water Resource Center, University of Maine, Bangor. Steering Committee Chairman, Dana Douglass, Jr., of Bethel will serve as moderator.

This meeting should be of particular interest to Oxford County municipal officers, planning board members and camp and cottage owners. The meeting was specifically planned for August for the benefit of the very non-resident camp and cottage owners.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO MEET THURSDAY, AUG. 12 AT GARLAND CHAPEL

The Bethel Historical Society will hold its monthly meeting Thursday evening, Aug. 12, at 7:30 at the Garland Chapel in the West Parish Congregational Church, at which time the guest speaker will be Earle Shetloworth, Jr., of Portland Greater Landmarks.

Mr. Shetloworth, who is working on his doctorate in architecture, is a graduate of Colby College. He is actively engaged in the work to preserve architecturally significant Maine buildings. At a Symposium sponsored by the League of Maine Historical Societies, held in Bangor in May, he spoke on Preservation of Rural Architecture in Maine, as well as the work going on in the Greater Portland Area to assure that not all interesting and important old dwellings are felled by the demolition wrecking ball, to make way for new highways, filling stations and motels.

He has an extensive collection of pictures taken of Maine architecture which he will be showing.

The local historical society has extended an invitation to the Parls, continued on Page Four

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

The 1971 tax bills were mailed Aug. 4. A discount of 2% will be allowed on taxes, except polls, until Sept. 1. Notices of tax liens will be mailed next week. No partial payments will be accepted on 1970 taxes after mailing of the notices until after the liens have been recorded.

Steel, to be used for stringers, has been purchased for the Rabbit Road bridge. We were fortunate to find used materials the proper size and length at the same price we paid in 1969 when the Edmund Smith bridge was rebuilt. We would like to cover this project with something other than plank, but the possibilities must be investigated further. As we rebuild these structures it is our intention to make them as permanent as is practical to eliminate the continual repairs we now experience. Increasing vehicle weights are a factor that must be considered when rebuilding a bridge, especially when there is much distance between abutments.

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Colinda Morgan, Corra. —

Several times recently my friends and I have left the main highway and driven up a hill to turn onto a farm road. This farm was as usual very "hunting ground." It is in very factious ground to me for I spent much time there as a child.

So high up in the place that when leaves it seems almost as if I could reach up and touch the fuzzy clouds.

As we stood in the yard and looked across the valley and hills we were flooded with memories.

Across the old road where the first farm house stood were the stone walls still marking the boundaries of the property. The ground here, still marked in fact, did so every corner of the night. Many memories live in the soil for they were dug up and out of the garden windows and open doors.

On our return to the house we were greeted by a deer beyond this house and later saw two at play in the open fields.

The old Ivy Housestead in fact, returned to its former "old" as it was fifty or more years ago.

We missed the old blacksmith shop of our childhood days which can not be replaced. This old shop had a purpose which is a mixture of smoke from charcoal burning in the large of hot iron and burning, heated tools.

Many times we watched her father blow his little fire in the large to bring the metal heated to a white heat. Then it is transferred to a anvil and then the hot iron from the large with his long forceps and pound it on the anvil until he got it just the right shape. I can still hear the "clink" of the hammer hitting the anvil.

These things are not lost to the world which he could handle all sorts of things as well as good workmanship. It took strength, courage, and skill to turn a piece of metal.

The shop is gone but with us there remains the cheerful laughter, singing, and especially the smiling of the face as he pointed his riding stick which would be there.

Another place we reached was the old "cemetery" or "ice pond," as called because they got their ice from there.

We didn't visit the famous old cemetery and its surrounding. They are over the hills to an old man's house where when we were young, it is always always adding to try to turn back the clock. So we just walked the path of memory and had after spending time on a warm afternoon in the "cemetery" lake.

Continuing the wandering with my dog in the sun on the rocks nearby.

The last visit was an evening at which time we prepared an old time farm supper and invited all friends to enjoy the evening with us.

The rain and sun had been over the hills most of the day but it was a beautiful day by the lake and the garden time while having a sparkling dinner.

From everything the green streets led to the garden.

As we sat on the lawn there was no breeze and a stillness of air like a chambered windowpane during the night. The garden was as though every window of the world appeared its other side, a garden and its surrounding country.

valleys worked with the rhythm of perfectly ground machinery. He watched until it disappeared into chasms of shadow.

Taken's time unfolded as we later as we left for home. The sun had passed its time clock ending our evening's pleasure.

The corn and wheat rose over the valley as we were leaving, crying into the darkness as we journeyed home.

All the lightning bugs "in the world" an explosion of their, prickles of the darkness of my home. They pricked, swam, floated, and fell as they danced on the grass. For a few moments I paused to watch.

Nothing else moved in all the valley except a faint fog which stirred the water and made little ripples that lived for a few moments on the pond's surface then died away.

In contrast to the fireflies the moon above shed still and the stars like diamonds twinkled their "good night" from the window of the sky.

On our return to the house we were greeted by a deer beyond this house and later saw two at play in the open fields.

August is here again. One more month before school will be in full swing and all will be busy.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Nowlin and two children returned home from Georgia, Wednesday night. Mrs. Nowlin, John's mother, returned with them. She had been visiting them for two weeks. Mr. Nowlin has been stationed near Marietta, Ga., during his service in the Army. He has his discharge from active duty. Mrs. Nowlin is the former Lorraine Davis, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guyton Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Nowlin and family took supper with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Guyton Davis Friday night.

Miss Laurie Darrow of Watford, N. Y., returned with Terry Campbell Saturday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Campbell and family. Terry had been visiting in New York the past week with Laurie.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bryant were at the Ellis Davis farm Friday where the two couples had a session with 64 again. Don't ask how the games came out, however, as the ladies did a wee bit better. That wasn't quite good enough to say each about but wait until next year.

Everyone who has a garden is picking beans in the neighborhood. The rains were really a God-send to them and really gave the vegetables something to grow on.

It looks as though the first of August will be a rainy one according to the old saying "the 1st and 2nd rules the first half of the month."

Berna Dean and Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKee, Bryant Pond, called on Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Davis Saturday evening, July 31.

Mr. Harry B. Packard (nee Ha) of San Diego, Calif., and her mother, Mrs. Janet Thompson, from Arlington, Va., were recent guests of Mrs. Bertha Packard. Mrs. Packard was a teacher some 40 years ago in Bryant Pond Grammar School. She went from there to Kearsburg to teach in 1927. In 1934

UPTON

Mrs. Arline Bender, Corral.

Paradise Lodge at the end of Van Herford Lane hosted guests from various parts of the world on Aug. 1. They include: three frauleins—Adeline E. Helderfeld, Marie-Paula Hoffman, and Solange Harf of Luxembourg; two Scottish ladies—Elise Duncan and Caroline Cruickshank; Peter Harrell of Rhodesia and Neil Bowles of Natal, South Africa. Neil is spending a year with Dr. and Mrs. Barnes of Upton and Upton.

We welcome this youth from across the sea and hope that he can find our peace and serenity as pleasant as we do.

On Aug. 2 the teaching staff of S. A. D. St. Sacro Valley, in South Hiram has been invited to a welcoming party at Paradise Lodge for Neil Bowles. The 19-year-old good-will ambassador is very interested in sports and outdoor activities. He has many slides and tapes from his homeland. Neil was Headboy per fact of his private all-boys boarding school in 1970. His parents have a large store in Harding and his father holds the World's Golf Championship.

The Barnes family, Dr. and Mrs.

and their six children are extremely delighted with their new son and are looking forward to the ensuing year.

Lucille Laryesse spent last week end in Massachusetts visiting.

Larry Wade was ill for most of his two-weeks vacation and was able to get to his home here only mid-week of the second week.

Melanie and I and her friend, Liz, went to Westbrook to a meeting of the Dunbar's Association. We did some field work and then listened to a talk by the president, John Shelley, followed by a question and answer period. Mr. Shelley has recently returned from Washington where he had joined a large group of various scientists at the Mt. St. Helens section for a study of the Musquoch. There are a man-like animal that live in the areas uninhabited by Homo sapiens. The scientists were skeptical of the value of Mr. Shelley and his following and each had to test their worth in his own fashion. Among them they gathered a lot of information and evidence, but were unable to capture or sight one of these creatures. Two gentlemen from the Bridgton area reported a glimpse of a strange upright creature in that area and showed some fur left at the sighting. They plan to have further tests on the sample. It is amazing what is being done with dressing rods.

There was a crash on Route 25 Monday morning near Tennessee Ridge. No one was hurt. Another car left the road near the picnic area and was all but covered by the grass on the opposite side of the road. He was fortunate not to have hit or been hit by oncoming traffic. Fred pulled his car out with his tractor.

The Community Club is scheduled to meet Saturday, Aug. 7. Few, if any, have renewed their membership for 1971 and it is hoped that those who are interested in the Club will be at the meeting and/or will at that time or previously see the secretary, Ed Brennan, and receive their membership card in exchange for annual dues. All Upton taxpayers and their families are eligible to become voting members. The meetings are open to anyone who wishes to attend.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Waterford and Bridgton societies to hear Mr. Shelleworth speak. Each member of the local society is asked to bring a guest, and a cordial invitation is extended to everyone in the Bethel area who is interested in historic preservation to attend this public meeting.

There is great interest today on the ecology of the land, and this includes saving these historically important treasures. In Bethel as everywhere else there has been destruction of some of the past. The Historical Society in its few years of activity has researched the town history—its people, their homes and their accomplishments. It is a rich and rewarding study. Bethel's written history is not up to date, for only one history has been written—that is Lapham's published before 1900.

The society has hoped to eventually have a museum to house gifts of things that show how people lived in the 175 years since the town was incorporated. Many communities have established such museums—sometimes just a room, but acquiring a house, and a curator when funds become available. The local society has so far had to refuse offers of gifts for lack of a suitable place for their housing and display.

Recently due to the auction at the so-called Durell house on Broad Street and the advertisement of the property for sale, many people not previously interested, have wondered about the history of this house and its significance in local history.

Older residents of the town still think of it as the Dr. Moses Mason house. Dr. Mason was Bethel's and Oxford County's first and only Congressman elected to the House of Representatives in 1833 and again in 1835—serving during the exciting administration of Andrew Jackson. Dr. Mason, son of Moses Mason who moved from Dublin, N. H., to the place now known as the Horseman Inn in 1750, was born in Dublin June 2, 1780. He was of limited education but when he was 24 years of age, he entered in 1804 into the practice of medicine on Bethel Hill, having apprenticed to his brother in law, Dr. James Ayer, who had apprenticed to Dr. Timothy Carter, Bethel's first doctor. Dr. Mason abandoned the practice of medicine when he was elected to Congress. He was appointed to the first postmaster of Bethel in 1813 and held this post to 1834. The first post office was in the Durell house. He married Miss Agnes Straw of New-

God and are approaching spiritual life and its demonstration. Everyone is welcome to attend First Church of Christ Scientist, Main and Tenth Streets, Bethel, N. H. Services begin at 11 a. m. Your children are invited to attend Sunday School held at the same time.

URNS BOOK PAGES—Edward O. Rice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Rice, of Rumford, is four months old. He not only looks at pages in a book but also turns them.

Bethel, Maine, June 15, 1815, and brought her to reside in this home—the first frame dwelling on a foundation, built on the Common, and which had been in process of building from 1813-1815. To this home came the most prominent businessmen and politicians of those years. He was on the Governor's Council 1843-45, and from 1854 to his death he was President of the Gould Board of Trustees.

Dr. Mason was a large land owner in Mason Town, incorporated as a town on Feb. 3, 1843, reverting to plantation status in 1936, which was named in his honor and where he had built and operated saw mills.

Dr. Mason and his wife had no children but were much interested in their nieces and nephews one of whom, Ada Twitchell, came to live with them and was educated by them, later marrying Tristram Durell, father of Daniel who inherited the place, and whose widow, Ada, survives him.

So this home represents the most important history of that period in Bethel, and members of the Historical Society have been deeply concerned as to its ultimate fate, although not in the financial position yet to acquire and maintain such a place for a museum.

marched from the railroad tracks up to and around the town square.

The three children who ran off with the honors were Perdita Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Davis; Douglas Greenleaf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Greenleaf; and Tony Batters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Batters. Their costumes showed great originality and forethought, and they were real winners.

Float prizes went to: first, Bethel Shoe Shop; second, The Bethel Inn; third, Western Auto.

No comment on the parade would be complete without mention of the Bethel CB Monitors, who, with their walkie-talkies kept things moving on schedule. A big laugh also is due to the Oxford County Shrine Club Clowns whose humor and antics were not in the least dampened by the initial downpour.

Innumerable people contributed in time, effort, and money to make this event, sponsored by the Bethel Lions Club, possible. Among this group, the following donated cash to the ancient lion who, each year, presents himself with his hand out:

Stan's Finest Barber Shop, Bethel Savings Bank, Bethel Citizen, Bethel Laundry, Brown's Variety, Bethel Spa, Rolfe's Apparel, Pete Chapin's Shell, Ernest Angevine, Cluke's Pharmacy, Suni Ski Shop, Martha's Restaurant, Charlie's Chevron, P. H. Chubbourn and Co., Lloyd Lowell, Window Box, Luce Oil Co., Bethel Inn, Brooks Brother, Bethel L.G.A. L. E. Davis Lumber Co., Hanover Dowel, and Bethel Furniture Stock.

Were it not for these people, and countless others who donated time and effort, many children with slight problems would be left in the dark. The Bethel Lions Club acknowledges their hard work and generosity with many, many thanks. An article of this sort would not be complete without mention of the Health Council, whose fine dinner, at the end of Mollycokett Day, puts a delicious period to the activities. This year's gustatory offering, made possible by many ladies laboring all day in the humid heat, won many plaudits.

PRESERVE AND CONSERVE

A PUBLIC SERVICE MESSAGE

We are very concerned about ecology and the pollution of our natural environment and we urge all of our friends and customers to help preserve the world we live in. Everyone has to do their share or soon it will be too late to reverse the current dangerous trends.

Pollution is a very definite hazard to good health. Air pollution can lead to serious respiratory problems and waste pollution can bring on disease breeding unsanitary conditions. During the summer months we can all help at home or on vacation, by making an extra personal effort to avoid doing things that pollute our environment.

Due to the increased number of prescriptions and in order to keep up good service, it would be to our mutual advantage, if you would please phone in refill prescriptions. — Thank you.
